

SUCCESS CLOSE FOR LONG PRH CAMPAIGN

Campaigners are increasingly hopeful that the long fight to protect services at the Princess Royal Hospital is nearing success.

A&E services were guaranteed last year, and consultant-led maternity services are also likely to be safe.

No final decisions have been made, but the Primary Care Trust is now looking to conclude the controversial 'Fit for the Future' review of health services.

High Weald's Conservative team has been at the forefront of the campaign, and Cllr Chris Hersey says "this would be a fantastic result for local residents who have always argued the case for downgrading didn't exist"

Local people have long campaigned to save vital health services at the PRH
